President's Message

It is time to turn our attention to Election of Officers for 2011-12. Our Parliamentarian Corinne Gurney and her committee need people to speak up and say "I would like to be----". April will be here soon. Remember this is your guild and we need your input as to who you would like to be our officers for the next year. No job is difficult and you have a lot of help to do your job right.

We have a Birthday Party for the 50-something year old guild members for February. Please call Mary Brewer 947-9784, to let her know if you will or have turned 50-something during 2011.

Librarian's Report

Your librarian wants to thank Kay Hague for her lovely lecture and demonstration of how to use your scraps to make a scrappy block. I have approached my zip-lock bag of scraps to try this new and exciting technique, and look forward to seeing my fellow quilter's blocks. Since no block size was specified, I decided to make mine 6-1/2 by 6-1/2 inches.

We will set up a "Quilter's Wonder Wall" at the next meeting so we can all share and admire our efforts with the scraps.

Remember our library has many items to share, so when you borrow materials from it we do need them back. Please return your items, or ask for an extension, so we both remember what has been borrowed.

~~ Corine Cudney

DOOR PRIZES: I'm very pleased with the way door prizes have been going. Everyone seems to be participating and which help raise more funds for door prizes and the guild. The four winners in January were Roxanne Flint, Debra Van Heerde, Annie Tyszka and Jamie Harrington. Congratulations to our winners. I think you will like the baskets we have for February in celebration of Valentine's Day.

~~ Pat Stauning

A NOTE OF APPRECIATION

This is an email from Holly at Bagram Air Field to let quilt makers know how well appreciated the quilts are for the wounded troops.

Standing inside of a C-17 feels like being in the belly of a whale. Ribs arch overhead, the vent conduits could be a circulatory system while cables trace across the walls and roof provide the nervous system of the beast.

Dulls colors prevail, a dusty green-grey paint, silver metal decks with charcoal skid strips, uninspiring black seats line the outer walls. Even the crew uniforms are dull, sand colored flight suits with subdued patches.

The only built-in spots of brightness are the yellow warning and hazard signs plastered in the appropriate places. Otherwise, think olive drab.

On a stratevac flight there is also the occasional spot of red-orange medical equipment. Ambulatory patients sit in the seats mentioned above. The litters for the serious ill and injured are held in stanchions, four sets on each side - up to three high in each location (yes, that is 20-24 litter patients). Looking like pieces of an erector set, the metal assemblies provide both bracing and conduits for power hook-ups.

Otherwise, the only bright, cheerfulness comes from the quilts which wrap each litter patient in warmth and comfort. All the colors and patterns convey love from the volunteers who are making quilts; letting those who are injured know that people care. Care enough to send their love across in the form of a quilt; effectively a hug, to combat that long dark transport from theater to Landstuhl.

*-Holly
Bagram Air Field*

~~Thanks Quilters for all your hard work...Betty Putzka

A Friendly Note from Your SCCQG Representative

This meeting was held in Downey, California. Sue Jacobson and I had a wonderful chat on the way down. The trip to Downey was faster than our trip back. The SCCQG main topic was Fund Raisers. Here are some of the ideas from our table. One was to raise the dues enough to eliminate an opportunity quilt and or quilt show (yes, there is a quilt guild that has done this and membership is at 72), Amazon. com is offering guilds a percentage of sales of certain things when a guild signs up, teaching quilting at community centers and offer to teach the younger generation in the summer months, boutiques, spring auctions, have only quarterly meetings, and the other suggestions will be printed in the SCCQG newsletter. The business part of the meeting was about the new web page SCCQG is going to have and hopefully no problems. A big reminder that the dues for membership and insurance are due. The responsibility of maintaining the insurance is put upon the quilt guilds. The next meeting will be “Meet the Teachers” and is in Santa Clarita so if anyone wants to go on April 9, 2011, please let me know. After the meeting, Sue and I went to M and L and we were very good and had complete control.

~~ Your friendly rep, Vicki Brown

Membership: We had 50 members, two guests, two renewals and two new members present at the January meeting. See you at the meeting and don't forget your name tag!

The pillow cases were made out of flour sacks and they were just stunning. She also showed her mother's quilt that her mother had made, but never used. Kay also showed numerous quilt that she has acquired throughout her life time and quilts that she has made out of scraps. She proceeded to demonstrate how to use all those little scraps of material that is left over from making her quilts and she turns those scraps into smaller wall quilts or table place mats. Kay also showed how to put two sweatshirts together and how to embellish them to make a one of a kind warm sweatshirt.

Her ideas truly inspired everybody present and she had a challenge for everybody and she sent everyone home with a baggie full of scraps and wants those people to bring back their creations with them to next month's meeting.
